We are very thankful to Dr. Peter Voss for his constructive comments. We shall take them into account when preparing the revised version of the manuscript and figures. We completely agree that information about serial numbers of equipment at permanent stations must be provided. Unfortunately, some of our sites were not easily reached during winter time, that is why we could not check this information now. but we shall perform the check in spring, when the snow melts. The table with serial numbers of instruments will be placed into the upgraded web-page of the Observatory.
