

A High Duty Cycle Transmitter Unit for Steady-State Surface NMR Instruments

The revised version of the manuscript, "A High Duty Cycle Transmitter Unit for Steady-State Surface NMR Instruments", has been carefully evaluated. The authors have adequately addressed the concerns raised in the previous review, notably regarding the figures and overall comprehension of the manuscript. The necessary revisions have been made to enhance the clarity and quality of the work.

All issues appear to have been resolved satisfactorily, and the manuscript is now considered suitable for publication. Acceptance is recommended.
